On July 11, 2017, and effective August 28, 2017, Missouri enacted House Bill 292 to add, under the Missouri S.A.F.E. Act, new subsection (6) to Mo. Rev. Stat. § 443.812,

The new subsection provides that a residential mortgage loan broker licensed in Missouri and exclusively making loans on manufactured or modular homes shall not be required to maintain a full-service office in Missouri; however, nothing in this subsection relieves a broker of the requirement to be licensed in the state and to obtain a certificate of authority to transact business in the state from the secretary of state.

The bill requires a residential mortgage loan broker licensed in Missouri who does not maintain a full-service office in Missouri to file with the license application an irrevocable consent which provides that, for suits and actions commenced against the broker in the courts of the state, the venue shall lie in the circuit court of Cole County.

The bill also provides that the director of the division of finance may assess the reasonable costs of any investigation incurred by the division that are outside the normal expense of any annual or special examination or any other costs incurred by the division as a result of a licensed residential mortgage loan broker who does not maintain a full-service office in Missouri.

MARC LIFSET is a member in the firm’s business law section, where he advises banks and financial institutions regarding consumer financial services issues, licensing, regulatory compliance and legislative matters. Marc has carved a place for himself in the manufactured housing lending arena as the primary drafter and proponent of New York’s Manufactured Housing Certificate of Title Act. Marc is chairperson of the Manufactured Housing Institute (“MHI”) Finance Lawyers Committee and serves on the Board of Governors of the MHI Financial Services Division. He is the primary draft person of manufactured home titling and perfection legislation in Alaska, Louisiana, Maryland, Missouri, Nebraska, New York, North Dakota and Tennessee. Marc represents manufactured home lenders, community operators and retailers throughout the country and is a frequent lecturer at industry conventions.
